Revised 5/12

Americanism

Our Signature Program

As veterans, we are all well aware of the many sacrifices made by service men and women throughout the history of our country. It is our collective duty to promote the ideals of Americanism, to ensure the veteran is never a forgotten citizen, and that the foundation on which this country was built is never taken for granted. The youth of America will be the torchbearers for the next generation and we can make a significant contribution in helping them to understand our rich heritage by taking our Program of Essays, Poster and Flag Coloring contests, with appropriate themes, to our nation's schools.

An Educators Endorsement

(Quotes you can use.)

Dr. John Bonfield, Superintendent of the School District of Lancaster, Pennsylvania and forty plus years veteran educator was quoted as saying, "it is really a wonderful opportunity for our young people to demonstrate their Americanism and Patriotism. It gives them a chance to use their skills and abilities through their essays and also their artwork. Our faculties are very pleased to cooperate with this contest because they know that there are good things behind it and good things happen as of a result of it."

When asked by Beryl Love, AMVETS National Programs Director, what he might share with other AMVETS Posts who have yet to establish a partnership with their local schools, Dr. Bonfield responded, "they need to point out to schools how this fits into the curriculum, schools teach American government, they teach art, they teach social studies and those just naturally fit right into this contest with youngsters being able to, as an assignment, do an essay but do an essay about why they are proud to be an American. Or if they have an art assignment to do an art assignment demonstrating and symbolizing how and why they are proud to be an American. So I think it fits very nicely with the objectives of the schools and I think that most school districts would welcome the opportunity to participate."
